RISK/RETURN SUMMARY: LYRICAL U.S. VALUE EQUITY FUND

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Lyrical U.S. Value Equity Fund (the "U.S. Fund") seeks to achieve long-term capital growth.

FEES AND EXPENSES

This table describes the fees and expenses that you may pay if you buy, hold, and sell shares of the U.S. Fund. You may pay other fees, such as brokerage commissions and other fees to financial intermediaries, which are not reflected in the tables and examples below. You may qualify for sales charge discounts if you and your family invest, or agree to invest in the future, at least $50,000 in the U.S. Fund. More information about these and other discounts is available (i) from your financial professional and (ii) in the section "Sales Charges" on page 38 of this Prospectus. Certain financial intermediaries may also offer variations in Fund sales charges to their customers as described in Appendix A – Financial Intermediary Sales Charge Variations to this Prospectus.

(1) A Class share purchases of $1,000,000 or more are subject to a 1.00% Contingent Deferred Sales Charge ("CDSC") if redeemed during the first 18 months after purchase unless the dealer, at its discretion, has waived the CDSC.

(2) C Class share purchases are subject to a 1.00% Contingent Deferred Sales Charge ("CDSC") if redeemed during the first 12 months after purchase.

- (3) Lyrical Asset Management LP (the “Adviser”) has contractually agreed, until April 1, 2024, to reduce Management Fees and reimburse Other Expenses to the extent necessary to limit Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses of each class of shares of the U.S. Fund (exclusive of brokerage costs, taxes, interest, borrowing costs such as interest and dividend expenses on securities sold short, acquired fund fees and expenses, and extraordinary expenses such as litigation and merger or reorganization costs and other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the U.S. Fund’s business) to an amount not exceeding 0.99% of the average daily net assets of the Institutional Class shares, 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the Investor Class shares, 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the A Class shares, and 1.99% of the average daily net assets of the C Class shares. Management Fee reductions and expense reimbursements by the Adviser are subject to repayment by the U.S. Fund for a period of 3 years after the date that such fees and expenses were waived or reimbursed, provided that the repayments do not cause Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses to exceed (i) the expense limitation then in effect, if any, and (ii) the expense limitation in effect at the time the expenses to be repaid were incurred. Prior to April 1, 2024, this agreement may not be modified or terminated without the approval of the U.S. Fund’s Board of Trustees (the “Board”). This agreement will terminate automatically if the U.S. Fund’s investment advisory agreement with the Adviser is terminated.
- (4) “Other Expenses” for the A and C shares are based on estimated amounts.

Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the U.S. Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the U.S. Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and the operating expenses of the U.S. Fund remain the same and the contractual agreement to limit expenses remains in effect only until April 1, 2024. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

Class	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Investor	$ 126	$ 453	$ 864	$ 2,012
Institutional	$ 101	$ 317	$ 554	$ 1,233
A	$ 694	$ 1,002	$ 1,389	$ 2,471
C	$ 302	$ 683	$ 1,249	$ 2,790

You would pay the following expenses if you did not redeem your shares:

Class	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Investor	$ 126	$ 453	$ 864	$ 2,012
Institutional	$ 101	$ 317	$ 554	$ 1,233
A	$ 694	$ 1,002	$ 1,389	$ 2,471
C	$ 202	$ 683	$ 1,249	$ 2,790

Portfolio Turnover

The U.S. Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when U.S. Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in Annual Fund Operating Expenses or in the Example, affect the U.S. Fund’s performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the U.S. Fund’s portfolio turnover rate was 14% of the average value of its portfolio.

PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

The U.S. Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing principally in a diversified portfolio of common stock of mid-capitalization and large-capitalization companies with low valuations relative to their long-term normalized earnings (i.e. projected earnings adjusted to smooth out cyclical effects in the economy).

Under normal circumstances, the U.S. Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes in common stocks traded on a United States (“U.S.”) securities exchange. Lyrical Asset Management LP (the “Adviser”) defines mid-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of between $2 and $10 billion at the time of purchase and large-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of greater than $10 billion at the time of purchase.

The Adviser generates an initial pool of potential undervalued investment candidates from among the top 1,000 companies traded in the U.S. (ranked by capitalization) by using a proprietary screening process that looks at historical earnings and estimated future earnings to estimate a fair price for the stock of a company. Each investment candidate then goes through an extensive fundamental research process that has two objectives. First, the Adviser seeks to develop an in-depth understanding of the company’s business, including, without limitation, drivers of growth and profitability, position relative to competitors and competitive advantages, position and leverage with customers and suppliers, historical and potential business threats and opportunities, and management style, objectives and incentives. This process may include, without limitation, financial statements analysis, study of competitors, customers and suppliers, discussions with company management, review of past earnings calls and investor presentations, and some use of research from brokerage firms and independent research firms. Second, the Adviser seeks to understand why the stock of the investment candidate may be undervalued, to determine if the factors depressing the value of the stock are temporary or permanent. The Adviser seeks to make that determination by applying an in-depth understanding of the business and, as necessary, performing additional analysis specific to each company.

At the conclusion of the research/due diligence process, the Adviser seeks to include in the U.S. Fund’s portfolio businesses believed to be sufficiently undervalued and of sufficient quality and durability to compensate for the investment risks.

The Adviser sets a target price for each stock in the portfolio that is updated periodically, and when a stock reaches or exceeds its target price, the Adviser’s strategy typically requires that the stock be sold. A stock position may also be sold when the Adviser believes other investment opportunities are more attractive or that the stock is unlikely to benefit from current business, market or economic conditions.

PRINCIPAL RISKS

As with any mutual fund investment, there is a risk that you could lose money by investing in the U.S. Fund. The success of the U.S. Fund’s investment strategy depends largely upon the Adviser’s skill in selecting securities for purchase and sale by the U.S. Fund and there is no assurance that the U.S. Fund will achieve its investment objective. Because of the types of securities in which the U.S. Fund invests and the investment techniques the Adviser uses, the U.S. Fund is designed for investors who are investing for the long term. The U.S. Fund may not be appropriate for use as a complete investment program. The principal risks of an investment in the U.S. Fund are generally described below.

Large-Capitalization Company Risk. Large-capitalization companies are generally more mature and may be unable to respond as quickly as smaller companies to new competitive challenges, such as changes in technology and consumer tastes, and also may not be able to attain the high growth rate of successful smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion.

Management Style Risk. The Adviser's method of security selection may not be successful and the U.S. Fund may underperform relative to its benchmark index or to other mutual funds that employ similar investment strategies. In addition, the Adviser may select investments that fail to perform as anticipated.

Market Risk. The return on and value of an investment in the U.S. Fund will fluctuate in response to stock market movements. Stocks are subject to market risks, such as a rapid increase or decrease in a stock's value or liquidity, fluctuations in price due to earnings, economic conditions and other factors beyond the control of the Adviser. Certain market events could increase volatility and exacerbate market risk, such as changes in governments' economic policies, political turmoil, military action, environmental events, trade disputes, and epidemics, pandemics or other public health issues. During periods of market volatility, security prices (including securities held by the U.S. Fund) could fall drastically and rapidly and therefore adversely affect the U.S. Fund.

Mid-Capitalization Company Risk. Investments in mid-capitalization companies often involve higher risks than large-capitalization companies because these companies may lack the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Therefore, the securities of mid-capitalization companies may be more susceptible to market downturns and other events, and their prices may be subject to greater price fluctuations.

Value Stock Risk. Investments in value stocks present the risk that a stock may decline in value or never reach the value the Adviser believes is its full market value, either because the market fails to recognize what the Adviser considers to be the company's true business value or because the Adviser's assessment of the company's prospects was not correct. Issuers of value stocks may have experienced adverse business developments or may be subject to special risks that have caused the stock to be out of favor.

PERFORMANCE SUMMARY

The bar chart and table that follow provide some indication of the risks of investing in the U.S. Fund by showing changes in the U.S. Fund's performance from year to year and by showing how the Institutional Class shares of the U.S. Fund's average annual total returns for one year, five years, and since inception compare with those of a broad-based securities market index. How the U.S. Fund has performed in the past (before and after taxes) is not necessarily an indication of how the U.S. Fund will perform in the future. Updated performance information, current through the most recent month end, is available by calling 1-888-884-8099 or by visiting the U.S. Fund's website at www.lyricalvaluefunds.com.

After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and may differ from those shown above. After-tax returns shown are not relevant to investors who hold their shares through tax-deferred arrangements, such as a 401(k) plan or an individual retirement account ("IRA"). The after-tax returns are shown for only one class of U.S. Fund shares and the after-tax returns for the other class of U.S. Fund shares will vary. Performance for the A Class shares and C Class shares will be included when those share classes have been operational for a full calendar year. A Class shares and C Class shares would have substantially similar annual returns to those classes presented herein because the shares are invested in the same portfolio of securities and the annual returns would differ only to the extent that the classes do not have the same expenses.

General Information

You may purchase or redeem (sell) shares of the U.S. Fund on each day that the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") is open for business. Transactions may be initiated by written request, by telephone or through your financial intermediary. Written requests to the U.S. Fund should be sent to the Lyrical U.S. Value Equity Fund, P.O. Box 46707, Cincinnati, Ohio 45246-0707. For more information about purchasing and redeeming shares, please see "How to Buy Shares" and "How to Redeem Shares" in this Prospectus or call 1-888-884-8099 for assistance.

TAX INFORMATION

The U.S. Fund's distributions are generally taxed as ordinary income or capital gains, unless you are investing through a tax-deferred arrangement, such as a 401(k) plan or an IRA. Such tax-deferred arrangements may be taxed later upon withdrawal of monies from those arrangements.

PAYMENTS TO BROKER-DEALERS AND OTHER FINANCIAL INTERMEDIARIES

If you purchase the U.S. Fund through a broker-dealer or any other financial intermediary (such as a bank), the U.S. Fund and its related companies may pay the intermediary for the sale of Fund shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the U.S. Fund over another investment. These payments are sometimes referred to as "revenue sharing." Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary's website for more information.

(1) A Class share purchases of $1,000,000 or more are subject to a 1.00% Contingent Deferred Sales Charge (“CDSC”) if redeemed during the first 18 months after purchase unless the dealer, at its discretion, has waived the CDSC.

- (2) C Class share purchases are subject to a 1.00% Contingent Deferred Sales Charge ("CDSC") if redeemed during the first 12 months after purchase.
- (3) "Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses" and "Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Reductions and/or Expense Reimbursements" will not correlate to the ratio of expenses to the average net assets in the Fund's Financial Highlights, which reflect the operating expenses of the Fund and do not include "Acquired Fund fees and expenses."
- (4) Lyrical Asset Management LP (the "Adviser") has contractually agreed, until April 1, 2024, to reduce Management Fees and reimburse Other Expenses to the extent necessary to limit Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses of each class of shares of the International Fund (exclusive of brokerage costs, taxes, interest, borrowing costs such as interest and dividend expenses on securities sold short, costs to organize the International Fund, acquired fund fees and expenses, and extraordinary expenses such as litigation and merger or reorganization costs and other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the International Fund's business) to an amount not exceeding 0.99% of the average daily net assets of the Institutional Class shares, 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the Investor Class shares, 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the A Class shares, and 1.99% of the average daily net assets of the C Class shares. Management Fee reductions and expense reimbursements by the Adviser are subject to repayment by the International Fund for a period of 3 years after the date that such fees and expenses were waived or reimbursed, provided that the repayments do not cause Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses to exceed (i) the expense limitation then in effect, if any, and (ii) the expense limitation in effect at the time the expenses to be repaid were incurred. Prior to April 1, 2024, this agreement may not be modified or terminated without the approval of the International Fund's Board of Trustees (the "Board"). This agreement will terminate automatically if the International Fund's investment advisory agreement with the Adviser is terminated.
- (5) "Other Expenses" for the A and C shares are based on estimated amounts.

Example

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the International Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the International Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and the operating expenses of the International Fund remain the same and the contractual agreement to limit expenses remains in effect only until April 1, 2024. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

Class	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Investor	$ 127	$ 1,478	$ 3,674	$ 7,999
Institutional	$ 102	$ 1,397	$ 3,552	$ 7,852
A	$ 695	$ 1,968	$ 4,038	$ 8,114
C	$ 303	$ 1,685	$ 3,952	$ 8,296

You would pay the following expenses if you did not redeem your shares:

Class	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Investor	$ 127	$ 1,478	$ 3,674	$ 7,999
Institutional	$ 102	$ 1,397	$ 3,552	$ 7,852
A	$ 695	$ 1,968	$ 4,038	$ 8,114
C	$ 203	$ 1,685	$ 3,952	$ 8,296

Portfolio Turnover

The International Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when International Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in Annual Fund Operating Expenses or in the Example, affect the International Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the International Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 34% of the average value of its portfolio.

PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

The International Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing principally in a diversified portfolio of common stocks of mid-capitalization and large-capitalization companies with low valuations relative to their long-term normalized earnings (i.e. projected earnings adjusted to smooth out cyclical effects in the economy).

Under normal circumstances, the International Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes in common stocks traded on non-U.S. international developed market securities exchanges. The Adviser defines mid-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of between $2 and $10 billion at the time of purchase and large-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of greater than $10 billion at the time of purchase. Developed markets are those classified as such by Morgan Stanley Capital International ("MSCI").

The Adviser generates an initial pool of potential undervalued investment candidates from among the top 1,500 companies traded in international developed markets (ranked by capitalization) by using a proprietary screening process that looks at historical earnings and estimated future earnings to estimate a fair price for the stock of a company. Each investment candidate then goes through an extensive fundamental research process that has two objectives. First, the Adviser seeks to develop an in-depth understanding of the company's business, including, without limitation, drivers of growth and profitability, position relative to competitors and competitive advantages, position and leverage with customers and suppliers, historical and potential business threats and opportunities, and management style, objectives and incentives. This process may include, without limitation, financial statements analysis, study of competitors, customers and suppliers, discussions with company management, review of past earnings calls and investor presentations, and some use of research from brokerage firms and independent research firms. Second, the Adviser seeks to understand why the stock of the investment candidate may be undervalued, to determine if the factors depressing the value of the stock are temporary or permanent. The Adviser seeks to make that determination by applying an in-depth understanding of the business and, as necessary, performing additional analysis specific to each company.

At the conclusion of the research/due diligence process, the Adviser seeks to include in the International Fund's portfolio businesses believed to be sufficiently undervalued and of sufficient quality and durability to compensate for the investment risks.

The Adviser sets a target price for each stock in the portfolio that is updated periodically, and when a stock reaches or exceeds its target price, the Adviser's strategy typically requires that the stock be sold. A stock position may also be sold when the Adviser believes other investment opportunities are more attractive or that the stock is unlikely to benefit from current business, market or economic conditions.

PRINCIPAL RISKS

As with any mutual fund investment, there is a risk that you could lose money by investing in the International Fund. The success of the International Fund's investment strategy depends largely upon the Adviser's skill in selecting securities for purchase and sale by the International Fund and there is no assurance that the International Fund will achieve its investment objective. Because of the types of securities in which the International Fund invests and the investment techniques the Adviser uses, the International Fund is designed for investors who are investing for the long term. The International Fund may not be appropriate for use as a complete investment program. The principal risks of an investment in the International Fund are generally described below.

Foreign Securities Risk. Investments in foreign securities involve risks that may be different from those of United States (“U.S.”) securities. Foreign securities may not be subject to uniform audit, financial reporting, or disclosure standards, practices, or requirements comparable to those found in the United States.

- Foreign Currency Risk. Foreign securities also involve currency risk, which is the risk that the value of a foreign security will decrease due to changes in the relative value of the U.S. dollar and the security’s underlying foreign currency.

Large-Capitalization Company Risk. Large-capitalization companies are generally more mature and may be unable to respond as quickly as smaller companies to new competitive challenges, such as changes in technology and consumer tastes, and also may not be able to attain the high growth rate of successful smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion.

Management Style Risk. The Adviser’s method of security selection may not be successful and the International Fund may underperform relative to its benchmark index or to other mutual funds that employ similar investment strategies. In addition, the Adviser may select investments that fail to perform as anticipated.

Market Risk. The return on and value of an investment in the International Fund will fluctuate in response to stock market movements. Stocks are subject to market risks, such as a rapid increase or decrease in a stock’s value or liquidity, fluctuations in price due to earnings, economic conditions and other factors beyond the control of the Adviser. Certain market events could increase volatility and exacerbate market risk, such as changes in governments’ economic policies, political turmoil, military action, environmental events, trade disputes, and epidemics, pandemics or other public health issues. During periods of market volatility, security prices (including securities held by the International Fund) could fall drastically and rapidly and therefore adversely affect the International Fund.

Mid-Capitalization Company Risk. Investments in mid-capitalization companies often involve higher risks than large-capitalization companies because these companies may lack the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Therefore, the securities of mid-capitalization companies may be more susceptible to market downturns and other events, and their prices may be subject to greater price fluctuations.

New Fund Risk. The International Fund was formed in 2020 and has a limited operating history. Accordingly, investors in the International Fund bear the risk that the International Fund may not be successful in implementing its investment strategy or growing to an economically viable size.

Value Stock Risk. Investments in value stocks present the risk that a stock may decline in value or never reach the value the Adviser believes is its full market value, either because the market fails to recognize what the Adviser considers to be the company’s true business value or because the Adviser's assessment of the company's prospects was not correct. Issuers of value stocks may have experienced adverse business developments or may be subject to special risks that have caused the stock to be out of favor.

After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and may differ from those shown above. After-tax returns shown are not relevant to investors who hold their shares through tax-deferred arrangements, such as a 401(k) plan or an individual retirement account ("IRA"). The after-tax returns are shown for only one class of International Fund shares and the after-tax returns for the other class of International Fund shares will vary. Performance for the A Class shares and C Class shares will be included when those share classes have been operational for a full calendar year. A Class shares and C Class shares would have substantially similar annual returns to those classes presented herein because the shares are invested in the same portfolio of securities and the annual returns would differ only to the extent that the classes do not have the same expenses.

TAX INFORMATION

The International Fund’s distributions are generally taxed as ordinary income or capital gains, unless you are investing through a tax-deferred arrangement, such as a 401(k) plan or an individual retirement account (“IRA”). Such tax-deferred arrangements may be taxed later upon withdrawal of monies from those arrangements.

PAYMENTS TO BROKER-DEALERS AND OTHER FINANCIAL INTERMEDIARIES

If you purchase the International Fund through a broker-dealer or any other financial intermediary (such as a bank), the International Fund and its related companies may pay the intermediary for the sale of Fund shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the International Fund over another investment. Certain of these payments are sometimes referred to as “revenue sharing”. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary’s website for more information.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RELATED RISKS

LYRICAL U.S. VALUE EQUITY FUND

Investment Objective

The U.S. Fund seeks to achieve long-term capital growth. The U.S. Fund's Board of Trustees (the "Board") has reserved the right to change the investment objective of the U.S. Fund without shareholder approval upon at least 60 days' prior written notice to shareholders.

Investment Strategies

The U.S. Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing principally in a diversified portfolio of common stock of mid-capitalization and large-capitalization companies with low valuations relative to their long-term normalized earnings (i.e., projected earnings adjusted to smooth out cyclical effects in the economy).

Under normal circumstances, the U.S. Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes in common stocks traded on a United States securities exchange. The foregoing policy may be changed upon at least 60 days' prior notice to shareholders. The Adviser defines mid-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of between $2 and $10 billion at the time of purchase and large-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of greater than $10 billion at the time of purchase.

The Adviser generates an initial pool of potential undervalued investment candidates from among the top 1,000 companies traded in the U.S. (ranked by capitalization) by using a proprietary screening process that looks at historical earnings and estimated future earnings to estimate a fair price for the stock of a company. Each investment candidate then goes through an extensive fundamental research process that has two objectives. First, the Adviser seeks to develop an in-depth understanding of the company's business, including, without limitation, drivers of growth and profitability, position relative to competitors and competitive advantages, position and leverage with customers and suppliers, historical and potential business threats and opportunities, and management style, objectives and incentives. This process may include, without limitation, financial statements analysis, study of competitors, customers and suppliers, discussions with company management, review of past earnings calls and investor presentations, and some use of research from brokerage firms and independent research firms. Second, the Adviser seeks to understand why the stock of the investment candidate may be undervalued, to determine if the factors depressing the value of the stock are temporary or permanent. The Adviser seeks to make that determination by applying an in-depth understanding of the business and, as necessary, performing additional analysis specific to each company.

At the conclusion of the research/due diligence process, the Adviser seeks to include in the U.S. Fund's portfolio businesses believed to be sufficiently undervalued and of sufficient quality and durability to compensate for the risks of the investment.

The Adviser sets a target price for each stock in the portfolio, which is updated periodically, and when a stock reaches or exceeds its target price, the Adviser's strategy typically requires that the stock be sold. A stock position may also be sold when the Adviser believes other investment opportunities are more attractive or that the stock is unlikely to benefit from current business, market or economic conditions.

Investment Risks

The principal risks associated with the U.S. Fund's principal investment strategies are generally described below. As with any mutual fund investment, there is a risk that you could lose money by investing in the U.S. Fund. The success of the U.S. Fund's investment strategy depends largely upon the Adviser's skill in selecting securities for purchase and sale by the U.S. Fund and there is no assurance that the U.S. Fund will achieve its investment objective. Because of the types of securities in which the U.S. Fund invests and the investment techniques the Adviser uses, the U.S. Fund is designed for investors who are investing for the long term. The U.S. Fund may not be appropriate for use as a complete investment program.

Large-Capitalization Company Risk. Large-capitalization companies are generally more mature and may be unable to respond as quickly as smaller companies to new competitive challenges, such as changes in technology and consumer tastes, and also may not be able to attain the high growth rate of successful smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion. In addition, there may be times when the returns for large capitalization companies generally trail returns of smaller companies or the overall stock market.

Management Style Risk. The Adviser's method of security selection may not be successful and the U.S. Fund may underperform relative to its benchmark index or to other mutual funds that employ similar investment strategies. In addition, the Adviser may select investments that fail to perform as anticipated. The ability of the U.S. Fund to meet its investment objective is directly related to the success of the Adviser's investment process and there is no guarantee that the Adviser's judgments about the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of a particular investment for the U.S. Fund will be correct or produce the desired results.

Market Risk. The return on and value of an investment in the U.S. Fund will fluctuate in response to stock market movements. Stocks are subject to market risks, such as a rapid increase or decrease in a stock's value or liquidity, fluctuations in price due to earnings, economic conditions and other factors beyond the control of the Adviser. A company's share price may decline if a company does not perform as expected, if it is not well managed, if there is a decreased demand for its products or services, or during periods of economic uncertainty or stock market turbulence, among other conditions. In a declining stock market, stock prices for all companies (including those in the U.S. Fund's portfolio) may decline, regardless of their long-term prospects. During periods of market volatility, stock prices can change drastically, and you could lose money over short or long term periods. Certain market events could increase volatility and exacerbate market risk, such as changes in governments' economic policies, political turmoil, military actions, environmental events, trade disputes, and epidemics, pandemics or other public health issues. For example, the novel coronavirus disease (COVID-19) has resulted in closing borders, quarantines, cancellations, disruptions to supply chains and customer activity and company closings and product cutbacks, as well as general concern and uncertainty, thus causing significant disruptions to global business activity and financial markets, the long term effects of which are currently difficult to assess. Turbulence in financial markets, and reduced liquidity in equity, credit and fixed income markets may negatively affect many issuers domestically and around the world, and can result in trading halts, any of which could have an adverse impact on the U.S. Fund. During periods of market volatility, security prices (including securities held by the U.S. Fund) could fall drastically and rapidly and therefore adversely affect the U.S. Fund.

Mid-Capitalization Company Risk. Investments in mid-capitalization companies often involve higher risks than large-capitalization companies because these companies may lack the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Therefore, the securities of mid-capitalization companies may be more susceptible to market downturns and other events, and their prices may be subject to greater price fluctuations. In addition, in many instances, the securities of mid-capitalization companies are traded only OTC or on a regional securities exchange, and the frequency and volume of their trading is less than is typical of larger companies. Because mid-capitalization companies normally have fewer shares outstanding than larger companies, it may be more difficult to buy or sell significant amounts of such shares without an unfavorable impact on prevailing prices. Mid-capitalization companies are typically subject to greater changes in earnings and business prospects than larger, more established companies and also may not be widely followed by investors, which can lower the demand for their stock.

Value Stock Risk. Investments in value stocks present the risk that a stock may decline in value or never reach the value the Adviser believes is its full market value, either because the market fails to recognize what the Adviser considers to be the company's true business value or because the Adviser's assessment of the company's prospects was not correct. Issuers of value stocks may have experienced adverse business developments or may be subject to special risks that have caused the stock to be out of favor. In addition, the U.S. Fund's value investment style may go out of favor with investors, negatively affecting the U.S. Fund's performance.

In addition to the strategies and risks described above, the U.S. Fund may invest in other types of securities whose risks are described below and/or in the U.S. Fund's Statement of Additional Information ("SAI").

Investments in Money Market Instruments and Temporary Defensive Positions. The U.S. Fund will typically hold a portion of its assets in cash or cash equivalent securities, including short-term debt securities, repurchase agreements and money market mutual fund shares ("Money Market Instruments"). The U.S. Fund may invest in Money Market Instruments to maintain liquidity or pending the selection of investments. From time to time, the U.S. Fund also may, but should not be expected to, take temporary defensive positions inconsistent with the U.S. Fund's principal investment strategies in an attempt to respond to adverse market, economic, political or other conditions, and in doing so, may invest up to 100% of its assets in Money Market Instruments. When the U.S. Fund invests in a money market mutual fund, the shareholders of the U.S. Fund generally will be subject to duplicative management fees. To the extent the U.S. Fund holds other registered investment companies, including money market mutual funds, the U.S. Fund will incur acquired fund fees and expenses (as defined by the Securities and Exchange Commission). Anytime the U.S. Fund takes a temporary defensive position, it may not achieve its investment objective.

Portfolio Holdings and Disclosure Policy. A description of the U.S. Fund's policies and procedures with respect to the disclosure of its portfolio holdings is available in the U.S. Fund's SAI.

LYRICAL INTERNATIONAL VALUE EQUITY FUND

Investment Objective

The International Fund seeks to achieve long-term capital growth. The International Fund's Board of Trustees (the "Board") has reserved the right to change the investment objective of the International Fund without shareholder approval upon at least 60 days' prior written notice to shareholders.

Investment Strategies

The International Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing principally in a diversified portfolio of common stocks of mid-capitalization and large-capitalization companies with low valuations relative to their long-term normalized earnings (i.e. projected earnings adjusted to smooth out cyclical effects in the economy).

Under normal circumstances, the International Fund will invest at least 80% of its net assets plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes in common stocks traded on non-U.S. international developed market securities exchanges. The foregoing policy may be changed upon a least 60 days' prior written notice to shareholders. Lyrical Asset Management LP (the "Adviser") defines mid-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of between $2 and $10 billion at the time of purchase and large-capitalization companies as companies with a total market capitalization of greater than $10 billion at the time of purchase. Developed markets are those classified as such by MSCI.

The Adviser generates an initial pool of potential undervalued investment candidates from among the top 1,500 companies traded in international developed markets (ranked by capitalization) by using a proprietary screening process that looks at historical earnings and estimated future earnings to estimate a fair price for the stock of a company. Each investment candidate then goes through an extensive fundamental research process that has two objectives. First, the Adviser seeks to develop an in-depth understanding of the company's business, including, without limitation, drivers of growth and profitability, position relative to competitors and competitive advantages, position and leverage with customers and suppliers, historical and potential business threats and opportunities, and management style, objectives and incentives. This process may include, without limitation, financial statements analysis, study of competitors, customers and suppliers, discussions with company management, review of past earnings calls and investor presentations, and some use of research from brokerage firms and independent research firms. Second, the Adviser seeks to understand why the stock of the investment candidate may be undervalued, to determine if the factors depressing the value of the stock are temporary or permanent. The Adviser seeks to make that determination by applying an in-depth understanding of the business and, as necessary, performing additional analysis specific to each company.

At the conclusion of the research/due diligence process, the Adviser seeks to include in the International Fund's portfolio businesses believed to be sufficiently undervalued and of sufficient quality and durability to be large enough to compensate for the risks of the investment.

The Adviser sets a target price for each stock in the portfolio that is updated periodically, and when a stock reaches or exceeds its target price, the Adviser's strategy typically requires that the stock be sold. A stock position may also be sold when the Adviser believes other investment opportunities are more attractive or that the stock is unlikely to benefit from current business, market or economic conditions.

Investment Risks

The principal risks associated with the International Fund's the principal investment strategies are generally described below. As with any mutual fund investment, there is a risk that you could lose money by investing in the International Fund. The success of the International Fund's investment strategy depends largely upon the Adviser's skill in selecting securities for purchase and sale by the International Fund and there is no assurance that the International Fund will achieve its investment objective. Because of the types of securities in which the International Fund invests and the investment techniques the Adviser uses, the International Fund is designed for investors who are investing for the long term. The International Fund may not be appropriate for use as a complete investment program.

Foreign Securities Risk. Investments in foreign securities involve risks that may be different from those of U.S. securities. Foreign securities may not be subject to uniform audit, financial reporting, or disclosure standards, practices, or requirements comparable to those found in the United States. Foreign securities are also subject to the risk of adverse changes in investment or exchange control regulations or currency exchange rates, expropriation or confiscatory taxation, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets, political or social instability and nationalization of companies or industries. In addition, the dividend and interest payable on certain of the International Fund's foreign securities may be subject to foreign withholding taxes.

- Foreign Currency Risk. Foreign securities are often denominated in a currency other than the U.S. dollar. Accordingly, the International Fund will be subject to the risks associated with fluctuations in currency values. The value of the International Fund's assets as measured in U.S. dollars may be affected favorably or unfavorably by changes in currency exchange rates and exchange control regulations. The International Fund's exposure to foreign currencies subjects the Fund to constantly changing exchange rates and the risk that those currencies will decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar. As a result, the International Fund's exposure to foreign currencies may reduce the returns of the Fund.

Large-Capitalization Company Risk. Large-capitalization companies are generally more mature and may be unable to respond as quickly as smaller companies to new competitive challenges, such as changes in technology and consumer tastes, and also may not be able to attain the high growth rate of successful smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion. In addition, there may be times when the returns for large capitalization companies generally trail returns of smaller companies or the overall stock market.

Management Style Risk. The Adviser's method of security selection may not be successful and the International Fund may underperform relative to its benchmark index or to other mutual funds that employ similar investment strategies. In addition, the Adviser may select investments that fail to perform as anticipated. The ability of the International Fund to meet its investment objective is directly related to the success of the Adviser's investment process and there is no guarantee that the Adviser's judgments about the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of a particular investment for the International Fund will be correct or produce the desired results.

Market Risk. The return on and value of an investment in the International Fund will fluctuate in response to stock market movements. Stocks are subject to market risks, such as a rapid increase or decrease in a stock's value or liquidity, fluctuations in price due to earnings, economic conditions and other factors beyond the control of the Adviser. A company's share price may decline if a company does not perform as expected, if it is not well managed, if there is a decreased demand for its products or services, or during periods of economic uncertainty or stock market turbulence, among other conditions. In a declining stock market, stock prices for all companies (including those in the International Fund's portfolio) may decline, regardless of their long-term prospects. During periods of market volatility, stock prices can change drastically, and you could lose money over short- or long-term periods. Certain market events could increase volatility and exacerbate market risk, such as changes in governments' economic policies, political turmoil, military actions, environmental events, trade disputes, and epidemics, pandemics or other public health issues. For example, the novel coronavirus disease (COVID-19) has resulted in closing borders, quarantines, cancellations, disruptions to supply chains and customer activity and company closings and product cutbacks, as well as general concern and noncertainty, thus causing significant disruptions to global business activity and financial markets, the long term effects of which are currently difficult to assess. Turbulence in financial markets, and reduced liquidity in equity, credit and fixed income markets may negatively affect many issuers domestically and around the world, and can result in trading halts, any of which could have an adverse impact on the International Fund. During periods of market volatility, security prices (including securities held by the International Fund) could fall drastically and rapidly and therefore adversely affect the International Fund.

Mid-Capitalization Company Risk. Investments in mid-capitalization companies often involve higher risks than large-capitalization companies because these companies may lack the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strengths of larger companies. Therefore, the securities of mid-capitalization companies may be more susceptible to market downturns and other events, and their prices may be subject to greater price fluctuations. In addition, in many instances, the securities of mid-capitalization companies are traded only OTC or on a regional securities exchange, and the frequency and volume of their trading is less than is typical of larger companies. Because mid-capitalization companies normally have fewer shares outstanding than larger companies, it may be more difficult to buy or sell significant amounts of such shares without an unfavorable impact on prevailing prices. Mid-capitalization companies are typically subject to greater changes in earnings and business prospects than larger, more established companies and also may not be widely followed by investors, which can lower the demand for their stock.

New Fund Risk. The International Fund was formed in 2020 and has a limited operating history. Accordingly, investors in the International Fund bear the risk that the International Fund may not be successful in implementing its investment strategy or growing to an economically viable size.

Value Stock Risk. Investments in value stocks present the risk that a stock may decline in value or never reach the value the Adviser believes is its full market value, either because the market fails to recognize what the Adviser considers to be the company's true business value or because the Adviser's assessment of the company's prospects was not correct. Issuers of value stocks may have experienced adverse business developments or may be subject to special risks that have caused the stock to be out of favor. In addition, the International Fund's value investment style may go out of favor with investors, negatively affecting the International Fund's performance.

In addition to the strategies and risks described above, the International Fund may invest in other types of securities whose risks are described below and/or in the International Fund's SAI.

Investments in Money Market Instruments and Temporary Defensive Positions. The International Fund will typically hold a portion of its assets in cash or Money Market Instruments. The International Fund may invest in Money Market Instruments to maintain liquidity or pending the selection of investments. From time to time, the International Fund also may, but should not be expected to, take temporary defensive positions inconsistent with the International Fund's principal investment strategies in an attempt to respond to adverse market, economic, political or other conditions, and in doing so, may invest up to 100% of its assets in Money Market Instruments. When the International Fund invests in a money market mutual fund, the shareholders of the International Fund generally will be subject to duplicative management fees. To the extent the International Fund holds other registered investment companies, including money market mutual funds, the International Fund will incur acquired fund fees and expenses (as defined by the Securities and Exchange Commission). Anytime the International Fund takes a temporary defensive position, it may not achieve its investment objective.

FUND MANAGEMENT

The Investment Adviser

Lyrical Asset Management LP, with a principal address of 250 West 55th Street, 37th Floor, New York, New York 10019, serves as the investment adviser to the U.S. Fund and the International Fund (each a “Fund” and collectively, the “Funds”). Pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement with the Adviser (the “Advisory Agreement”) for each Fund, the Adviser provides each Fund with a continuous program of investing the Fund’s assets and determining the composition of the Fund’s portfolios. The Adviser was organized in 2008 and also provides investment advisory services to high net worth individuals, institutional investors, investment companies and an Undertaking for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities (“UCITS”) fund.

For its services, each Fund pays the Adviser a monthly investment advisory fee (the “Management Fee”) computed at the annual rate of 0.85% of the Fund’s average daily net assets under the terms of its Advisory Agreement. The Adviser has contractually agreed under an expense limitation agreement (the “Expense Limitation Agreement”) with the U.S. Fund, until April 1, 2024, to reduce its Management Fee and to reimburse U.S. Fund expenses to the extent necessary to limit Total Annual Operating Expenses of the U.S. Fund (exclusive of brokerage costs, taxes, interest, borrowing costs such as interest and dividend expenses on securities sold short, acquired fund fees and expenses, and extraordinary expenses such as litigation and merger or reorganization costs and other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the U.S. Fund’s business) to an amount not exceeding 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the U.S. Fund for the Investor Class shares, 0.99% of the average daily net assets of the U.S. Fund for the Institutional Class shares, 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the A Class shares, and 1.99% of the average daily net assets of the C Class shares. The Adviser has contractually agreed under an Expense Limitation Agreement with the International Fund, until April 1, 2024, to reduce its Management Fee and to reimburse International Fund expenses to the extent necessary to limit Total Annual Operating Expenses of the International Fund (exclusive of brokerage costs, taxes, interest, borrowing costs such as interest and dividend expenses on securities sold short, costs to organize the International Fund, acquired fund fees and expenses, and extraordinary expenses such as litigation and merger or reorganization costs and other expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the International Fund’s business) to an amount not exceeding 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the International Fund for the Investor Class shares, 0.99% of the average daily net assets of the International Fund for the Institutional Class shares, 1.24% of the average daily net assets of the A Class shares, and 1.99% of the average daily net assets of the C Class shares. The Expense Limitation Agreement for each Fund may be terminated by the Adviser or the Board, without approval by the other party, at any time upon not less than 60 days’ notice to the other party as set forth in the Expense Limitation Agreement. The applicable Expense Limitation Agreement will terminate automatically if that Fund’s Advisory Agreement with the Adviser is terminated. The total Management Fee paid to the Adviser, as a percentage of average net assets, for the fiscal year ended November 30, 2021, was 0.84% for the U.S. Fund, net of fee reductions and expense reimbursements and 0% for the International Fund, net of fee reductions and expense reimbursements.

A discussion of the factors considered by the Board in its approval of the Funds' Advisory Agreement with the Adviser, including the Board's conclusions with respect thereto, is available in Funds' Annual Report to shareholders for the fiscal year ended November 30, 2021.

Portfolio Managers

The following individuals have primary responsibility for day-to-day management of each Fund's portfolio:

Andrew Wellington is a portfolio manager of the U.S. Fund. Mr. Wellington has been a Managing Partner and the Chief Investment Officer of the Adviser since it was founded in 2008. Prior to joining Lyrical, Mr. Wellington established and managed the New Mountain Vantage Fund, a value-oriented, long-only, activist hedge fund at New Mountain Capital. Before joining New Mountain Capital, Mr. Wellington managed the institutional mid-capitalization value product at Neuberger Berman and was a founding member of Pzena Investment Management, serving as its original research analyst. Mr. Wellington graduated summa cum laude from the Management & Technology dual-degree program at University of Pennsylvania.

John Mullins is a portfolio manager of the U.S. Fund and the International Fund. Mr. Mullins is an Associate Portfolio Manager of the Adviser, having joined the Adviser in 2017. Prior to joining the Adviser, Mr. Mullins served as a Senior Analyst at Clearfield Capital Management starting in 2016, and prior to that was an Analyst at Elm Ridge Capital starting in 2014. Previously, Mr. Mullins was an investment analyst with Orbis Investment Management beginning in 2010. Mr. Mullins graduated with a B.A., English from Yale University and received an MBA from the Stanford Graduate School of Business.

Dan Kaskawits is a portfolio manager of the U.S. Fund and the International Fund. Mr. Kaskawits is an Associate Portfolio Manager of the Adviser, having joined the Adviser in 2018. Prior to joining the Adviser, Mr. Kaskawits served as an Analyst with Elm Ridge Capital starting in 2011. Mr. Kaskawits graduated with a B.S., Management from Tulane University and received an MBA from Columbia Business School. Mr. Kaskawits has earned the right to use the CFA designation.

The Funds' SAI provides additional information about the Portfolio Managers' compensation, other accounts managed by the Portfolio Manager and their respective ownership of shares of the Funds.

The Administrator and Transfer Agent

Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC ("Ultimus", the "Administrator", or the "Transfer Agent"), located at 225 Pictoria Drive, Suite 450, Cincinnati, Ohio 45246, serves as the Funds' administrator, transfer agent and fund accounting agent. Management and administrative services provided to the Funds by Ultimus include (i) providing office space, equipment and officers and clerical personnel to the Funds, (ii) obtaining valuations, calculating net asset values ("NAVs") and performing other accounting, tax and financial services, (iii) recordkeeping, (iv) regulatory reporting services, (v) processing shareholder account transactions and disbursing dividends and other distributions, and (vi) administering custodial and other third-party service provider contracts on behalf of the Funds.

The Distributor

Ultimus Fund Distributors, LLC (the "Distributor"), located at 225 Pictoria Drive, Suite 450, Cincinnati, Ohio 45246, is the Funds' principal underwriter and serves as the exclusive agent for the distribution of the Funds' shares. The Distributor may sell the Funds' shares to or through qualified securities dealers or other approved entities.

The Funds' SAI has more detailed information about the Adviser and other service providers to the Funds.

DISTRIBUTION PLAN

Each Fund has adopted a plan of distribution for its A Class shares, C Class shares, and Investor Class shares (the “12b-1 Plan”) in accordance with Rule 12b-1 under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”). The 12b-1 Plan allows each Fund to make payments to securities dealers and other financial organizations (including payments directly to the Adviser and the Distributor) for expenses related to the distribution and servicing of that Fund’s Investor Class shares. The annual fees payable under the 12b-1 Plan may not exceed an amount equal to 0.25% of the A Class shares’ average daily net assets, 1.00% of the C Class shares’ average daily net assets, and 0.25% of the Investor Class shares’ average daily net assets. Because 12b-1 Plan fees are paid out of a Fund’s assets on an ongoing basis, over time they will increase the cost of your investment and may cost you more than paying other types of sales charges. Expenses related to the distribution and servicing of each Fund’s A Class shares, C Class shares, and Investor Class shares may include, but are not limited to, payments to securities dealers and other persons who are engaged in the sale of A Class shares, C Class shares, or Investor Class shares of that Fund and who may be advising shareholders regarding the sale or retention of such shares; expenses of maintaining personnel who render shareholder support services not otherwise provided by the Transfer Agent or the Funds; expenses of formulating and implementing marketing and promotional activities, including direct mail promotions and mass media advertising; expenses of preparing, printing or distributing prospectuses and SAs and reports for recipients other than existing shareholders of that Fund; expenses of obtaining such information, analyses and reports with respect to marketing and promotional activities as each Fund may, from time to time, deem advisable; and any other expenses related to the distribution and servicing of the Funds’ A Class shares, C Class shares, or Investor Class shares. The Adviser may make additional payments to financial organizations from its own assets. The payment by the Adviser of any such additional compensation will not affect the expense ratio of the Funds.

HOW THE FUNDS VALUE THEIR SHARES

The NAV of each Fund is calculated as of the close of regular trading on the NYSE (generally 4:00 p.m., Eastern Time) on each day that the NYSE is open for business. Currently, the NYSE is closed on weekends and in recognition of the following holidays: New Year's Day, Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, Presidents' Day, Good Friday, Memorial Day, Juneteenth National Independence Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. To calculate NAV, each Fund's assets are valued and totaled, liabilities are subtracted, and the balance is divided by the number of shares outstanding. Each Fund generally values its portfolio securities at their current market values determined based on available market quotations. However, if market quotations are not available or are considered to be unreliable due to market or other events, portfolio securities will be valued at their fair values, as of the close of regular trading on the NYSE, as determined in good faith under procedures adopted by the Board. When fair value pricing is employed, the prices of securities used by each Fund to calculate its NAV are based on the consideration by that Fund of a number of subjective factors and therefore may differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities. To the extent the assets of a Fund are invested in other registered investment companies that are not listed on an exchange that Fund's NAV is calculated based upon the NAVs reported by such registered investment companies, and the prospectuses for these companies explain the circumstances under which they will use fair value pricing and the effects of using fair value pricing. To the extent a Fund has portfolio securities that are primarily listed on foreign exchanges that trade on weekends or other days when the Fund does not price its shares, the NAV of the Fund's shares may change on days when shareholders will not be able to purchase or redeem the Fund's shares.

Your order to purchase or redeem shares is priced at the NAV next calculated after your order is received in proper form by that Fund. An order is considered to be in "proper form" if it includes all necessary information and documentation related to the purchase or redemption request, and, if applicable, payment in full of the purchase amount.

HOW TO BUY SHARES

Shares are available for purchase from the Funds every day the NYSE is open for business, at the NAV next calculated after receipt of a purchase order in proper form. Each Fund reserves the right to reject any purchase request and/or suspend its offering of shares at any time. Investors who purchase shares through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary may be charged a fee by such broker-dealer or intermediary. The Funds mail you confirmations of all purchases or redemptions of Fund shares if shares are purchased directly through the Funds. Certificates representing Fund shares are not issued.

Choosing a Share Class

Each Fund offers four classes of shares: A Class shares, C Class shares, Investor Class shares and Institutional Class shares. Each share class of a Fund represents an ownership interest in the same investment portfolio of the Fund and has the same rights but each class has its own expense structure.

Each share class has its own shareholder eligibility criteria, cost structure and other features. The following summarizes the primary features of A Class shares, C Class shares, Investor Class shares and Institutional Class shares. Contact your financial intermediary or a Fund for more information about each Fund's share classes and how to choose between them.

An investor may be eligible to purchase more than one share class. However, if you purchase shares through a financial intermediary, you may only purchase that class of shares which your financial intermediary sells or services. Your financial intermediary can tell you which classes of shares are available through the intermediary.

When you choose your class of shares, you should consider the size of your anticipated investment. Your financial consultant or other financial intermediary can help you determine which share class is best suited to your personal financial goals. If you qualify to purchase Investor Class shares, you should purchase them rather than A Class shares or C Class shares because the A Class shares and C Class shares have higher expenses than the investor Class shares. If you qualify to purchase Institutional Class shares, you should purchase them rather than the A Class, C Class, and Investor Class shares because the A Class, C Class, and Investor Class shares have higher expenses than the Institutional Class shares. Although each class invests in the same portfolio of securities, the returns for each class will differ because each class is subject to different expenses.

A Class Shares have a front-end sales charge, which is deducted from your purchase price when you buy your shares, and results in a smaller dollar amount being invested in the Fund than the purchase price you pay (unless you qualify for a waiver or reduction of the sales charge). The Fund's other share classes do not have a front-end sales charge, so the full amount of your purchase price is invested in those classes. A Class Shares have lower ongoing distribution and shareholder services fees ("Rule 12b-1 Fees") than C Class Shares. Over time, C Class Shares can incur Rule 12b-1 Fees that are equal to or more than the front-end sales charge and Rule 12b-1 Fees you would pay for A Class Shares. Although the full amount of your purchase price of C Class Shares is invested in a Fund, your return on this money will be reduced by the expected higher annual expenses of C Class Shares.

You may convert shares of one class of shares to any other class of shares for which you qualify to purchase. Conversion will be based on the relative NAV of the two Classes on the conversion date.

Minimum Initial Investment

For A Class shares, the minimum initial investment amount for regular accounts is $1,000. For C Class shares, the minimum initial investment amount for regular accounts is $1,000. For Investor Class shares, the minimum initial investment for regular accounts in each Fund is $2,500. For Institutional Class shares, the minimum initial investment in each Fund for regular accounts is $100,000. These minimum investment requirements may be waived or reduced for any reason at the discretion of the Funds.

Opening an Account

An account may be opened by mail or bank wire if it is submitted in proper form, as follows:

By Mail. To open a new account by mail:

- Complete and sign the account application.
- Enclose a check payable to the applicable Fund; please reference A Class, C Class, Investor Class or Institutional Class to ensure proper crediting to your account.
- Mail the application and the check to the Transfer Agent at the following address:
Lyrical U.S. Value Equity Fund/Lyrical International Value Equity Fund (as appropriate)
P.O. Box 46707
Cincinnati, Ohio 45246-0707

Shares will be issued at the NAV next computed after receipt of your application, in proper form, and check. When making a purchase request, make sure your request is in good order. "Good order" means your purchase request includes:

- The name of the Fund,
- The dollar amount of shares to be purchased,

- A completed purchase application or investment stub, and Check payable to the Lyrical U.S. Value Equity Fund/Lyrical International Value Equity Fund (as appropriate).

All purchases must be made in U.S. dollars and checks must be drawn on U.S. financial institutions. The Funds do not accept cash, drafts, “starter” checks, traveler’s checks, credit card checks, post-dated checks, non-U.S. financial institution checks, cashier’s checks under $10,000, or money orders. In addition, the Funds do not accept checks made payable to third parties. When shares are purchased by check, the proceeds from the redemption of those shares will not be paid until the purchase check has been converted to federal funds, which could take up to 15 calendar days from the date of purchase. If an order to purchase shares is canceled because your check does not clear, you will be responsible for any resulting losses or other fees incurred by that Fund or the Transfer Agent in the transaction.

By sending your check to the Transfer Agent, please be aware that you are authorizing the Transfer Agent to make a one-time electronic debit from your account at the financial institution indicated on your check. Your bank account will be debited as early as the same day the Transfer Agent receives your payment in the amount of your check; no additional amount will be added to the total. The transaction will appear on your bank statement. Your original check will be destroyed once processed, and you will not receive your canceled check back. If the Transfer Agent cannot post the transaction electronically, you authorize the Transfer Agent to present an image copy of your check for payment.

You may not use an Automated Clearing House (“ACH”) transaction for your initial purchase of Fund shares.

By Wire. To open a new account by wire of federal funds, call the Transfer Agent at 1-888-884-8099 to obtain the necessary information to instruct your financial institution to wire your investment. A representative will assist you in obtaining an account application, which must be completed, signed and faxed (or mailed) to the Transfer Agent before payment by wire will be accepted.

The Funds require advance notification of all wire purchases in order to ensure that the wire is received in proper form and that your account is subsequently credited in a timely fashion. Failure to notify the Transfer Agent prior to the transmittal of the bank wire may result in a delay in purchasing shares of a Fund. An order, following proper advance notification to the Transfer Agent, is considered received when U.S. Bank, N.A., the Funds’ custodian, receives payment by wire. If your account application was faxed to the Transfer Agent, you must also mail the completed account application to the Transfer Agent on the same day the wire payment is made. See “Opening an Account – By Mail” above. Your financial institution may charge a fee for wiring funds. Shares will be issued at the NAV next computed after receipt of your wire in proper form.

If your check or wire does not clear, you will be responsible for any loss incurred by the Fund and charged a $25 fee to defray bank charges.

Through Your Broker or Financial Institution. Shares of the Funds may be purchased through certain brokerage firms and financial institutions that are authorized to accept orders on behalf of the Funds at the NAV next determined after your order is received by such organization in proper form. These organizations are authorized to designate other intermediaries to receive purchase orders on the Funds’ behalf. The Funds will be deemed to have received a purchase or redemption order when an authorized broker or, if applicable, a broker's authorized designee, receives the order in proper form. These organizations may be the shareholders of record of your shares. The Funds are not responsible for ensuring that these organizations carry out their obligations to their customers. Shareholders investing in this manner should look to the organization through which they invest for specific instructions on how to purchase and redeem shares. Such investors should consult with their financial intermediary regarding any commissions and other fees and expenses of the shares being purchased and whether other classes of shares of the Funds may be available on the financial intermediary's platform. Certain financial intermediaries may charge fees for purchase and/or redemption transactions by customers, depending upon the nature and terms of the financial intermediaries' particular platform. These organizations may charge you transaction fees or require payment of a commission to a broker on purchases of Fund shares and may impose other charges or restrictions or account options that differ from those applicable to shareholders who purchase shares directly through a Fund. These organizations may be the shareholders of record of your shares. The Funds are not responsible for ensuring that these organizations carry out their obligations to their customers. Shareholders investing in this manner should look to the organization through which they invest for specific instructions on how to purchase and redeem shares.

Subsequent Investments

Once an account is open, additional purchases of Fund shares may be made at any time in any amount. Additional purchases must be submitted in proper form as described below. Additional purchases may be made:

- By sending a check, made payable to the applicable Fund in which you are investing, P.O. Box 46707, Cincinnati, Ohio 45246-0707. Be sure to note your account number on the memo line of your check. The shareholder will be responsible for any fees incurred or losses suffered by the Fund as a result of any check returned for insufficient funds.
- By wire to the account of the applicable Fund in which you are investing as described under "Opening an Account – By Wire." Shareholders are required to call the Transfer Agent at 1-888-884-8099 before wiring funds.
- Through your brokerage firm or other financial institution.
- By ACH purchase. To have this option added to your account, please send a letter to the applicable Fund requesting this option and supply a voided check for the bank account information. Only bank accounts held at domestic institutions that are ACH members may be used for these transactions.

Automatic Investment Plan and Direct Deposit Plans

You may make automatic monthly investments in the Funds from your account held at a bank, savings and loan or other financial depository institution. The minimum investments under the automatic investment plan must be at least $100 under the plan and are made on the 15th and/or last business day of the month. The Transfer Agent currently pays the costs of this service, but reserves the right, upon 30 days written notice, to make reasonable charges. Your depository institution may impose its own charge for making transfers from your account.

Your employer may offer a direct deposit plan which will allow you to have all or a portion of your paycheck transferred automatically to purchase shares of the Funds. Social Security recipients may have all or a portion of their social security check transferred automatically to purchase shares of the Funds. Please call 1-888-884-8099 for more information about the automatic investment plan and direct deposit plans.

Purchases in Kind

The Funds may accept securities in lieu of cash in payment for the purchase of shares of the Funds. The acceptance of such securities is at the sole discretion of the Adviser based upon the suitability of the securities as an investment for the applicable Fund, the marketability of such securities, and other factors that the Funds may deem appropriate. If accepted, the securities will be valued using the same criteria and methods utilized for valuing securities to compute the applicable Fund's NAV.

Customer Identification and Verification

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each person that opens a new account, and to determine whether such person's name appears on government lists of known or suspected terrorists and terrorist organizations. As a result, the Funds must obtain the following information for each person that opens a new account:

- Name;
- Date of birth (for individuals);
- Residential or business street address (although post office boxes are still permitted for mailing); and
- Social security number, other taxpayer identification number, or other identifying number.

You may also be asked for a copy of your driver's license, passport, or other identifying document in order to verify your identity. In addition, it may be necessary to verify your identity by cross-referencing your identification information with a consumer report or other electronic database. Additional information may be required to open accounts for corporations and other entities. Federal law prohibits the Funds and other financial institutions from opening a new account unless they receive the minimum identifying information listed above.

After an account is opened, the Funds may restrict your ability to purchase additional shares until your identity is verified. The Funds also may close your account or take other appropriate action if they are unable to verify your identity within a reasonable time. If your account is closed for this reason, your shares will be redeemed at the NAV next calculated after the account is closed. In that case, your redemption proceeds may be worth more or less than your original investment. The Funds will not be responsible for any loss incurred due to the Funds' inability to verify your identity.

Sales Charges

Front-End Sales Charges – A Class Shares

The offering price of A Class shares is the next calculated NAV after the Funds receive your request, plus the front-end sales charge. The amount of any front-end sales charge included in your offering price varies depending on the amount of your investment.

The sales charges are set forth below:

If Your Investment Is:	Your Sales Charge as a Percentage of Offering Price	Your Sales Charge as a Percentage of Your Net Investment	Dealer Reallowance as a Percentage of Offering Price
Less than $50,000	5.75%	6.10%	5.00%
$50,000 but less than $100,000	4.75%	4.99%	4.25%
$100,000 but less than $250,000	3.75%	3.90%	3.25%
$250,000 but less than $500,000	2.75%	2.83%	2.25%
$500,000 but less than $1,000,000	2.00%	2.04%	1.75%
$1,000,000 and over ⁽¹⁾	None	None	1.00%

⁽¹⁾ A Class share purchases of $1,000,000 or more are subject to a 1.00% Contingent Deferred Sales Charge ("CDSC") if redeemed during the first 18 months after purchase unless the dealer, at its discretion, has waived the CDSC.

You may qualify for reduced sales charges or sales charge waivers. If you believe that you may qualify for a reduction or waiver of the sales charge, you should discuss this matter with your broker or other financial intermediary. To qualify for these reductions or waivers, you or your financial intermediary must provide sufficient information at the time of purchase to verify that your purchase qualifies for such treatment. This information could be used to aggregate, for example, holdings in personal or retirement accounts, Fund shares owned by your family members, and holdings in accounts at other brokers or financial intermediaries. The Funds or your financial intermediary may request documentation from you in order to verify your eligibility for a breakpoint discount. This information may include account statements and records regarding Fund shares held at all financial intermediaries by you and members of your family. In addition to breakpoint discounts, the following sections describe other circumstances in which sales charges are waived or otherwise may be reduced. Your financial intermediary may not offer any or all of the waivers or discounts discussed below, in which case you would be required to purchase A Class shares directly from a Fund or through another intermediary in order to receive the desired waiver or discount. Investors investing in a Fund through an intermediary should consult “Sales Charge Waivers and Reductions Available Through Certain Financial Intermediaries” below.

Waiver of Front-End Sales Charge – A Class Shares

Certain investors may be eligible for a waiver of the sales loads due to the nature of the investors and/or the reduced sales efforts necessary to obtain their investments. The front-end sales charge will be waived on A Class shares purchased:

- Through reinvestment of dividends and distributions;
- Through an account advised or sub-advised by the Adviser or its affiliates;
- By persons repurchasing shares they redeemed within the last 90 days (see “Repurchase of A Class Shares”);
- By employees, officers and directors, and members of their family, of the Adviser and its affiliates;
- By persons reinvesting distributions from qualified employee benefit retirement plans and rollovers from IRAs as long as the plan was previously invested in one or more of the Funds;
- By investors who purchase shares with redemption proceeds (but only to the extent of such redemption proceeds) from another investment company within 30 days of such redemption, provided that the investors paid either a front-end or contingent deferred sales charge on the original shares redeemed;
- Through dealers, retirement plans, asset allocation programs and financial institutions that, under their dealer agreements with the distributor or otherwise, do not receive any portion of the front-end sales charge;
- Purchases by registered representatives and other employees of certain financial intermediaries (and their family members) having selling agreements with the Adviser or distributor; and
- Certain other investors as deemed appropriate by the Adviser.

You should inquire with your financial intermediary regarding whether a waiver of front-end sales charge is applicable to you.

Repurchase of A Class Shares

You may repurchase any amount of A Class shares of any Fund at NAV (without the normal front-end sales charge), up to the limit of the value of any amount of A Class shares (other than those which were purchased with reinvested dividends and distributions) that you redeemed within the past 90 days. In effect, this allows you to reacquire shares that you may have had to redeem, without repaying the front-end sales charge. To exercise this privilege, a Fund must receive your purchase order within 90 days of your redemption. In addition, you must notify your investment professional or institution when you send in your purchase order that you are repurchasing shares. Certain tax rules may limit your ability to recognize a loss on the redemption of your A Class shares, and you should consult your tax advisor if recognizing such a loss is important to you.

Rights of Accumulation

In calculating the appropriate sales charge rate, this right allows you to add the value of the A Class shares you already own to the amount that you are currently purchasing. The Funds will combine the value of your current purchases with the current value of any A Class shares you purchased previously for (i) your account, (ii) your spouse's account, (iii) a joint account with your spouse, or (iv) your minor children's trust or custodial accounts. A fiduciary purchasing shares for the same fiduciary account, trust or estate may also use this right of accumulation. If your investment qualifies for a reduced sales load due to accumulation of purchases, you must notify the transfer agent at the time of purchase of the existence of other accounts and/or holdings eligible to be aggregated to reduce or eliminate the sales load. You may be required to provide records, such as account statements, regarding Fund shares held by you or related accounts at the Funds or at other financial intermediaries in order to verify your eligibility for a breakpoint discount. You will receive the reduced sales load only on the additional purchases and not retroactively on previous purchases. The Funds may amend or terminate this right of accumulation at any time.

Letter of Intent

You may purchase A Class shares at the sales charge rate applicable to the total amount of the purchases you intend to make over a 13-month period. In other words, a Letter of Intent allows you to purchase A Class shares of a Fund over a 13-month period and receive the same sales charge as if you had purchased all the shares at the same time. The Fund will only consider the value of A Class shares sold subject to a sales charge. As a result, shares of the A Class shares purchased with dividends or distributions will not be included in the calculation. To be entitled to a reduced sales charge on the purchase of A Class shares based on shares you intend to purchase over the 13-month period, you must send the Fund a Letter of Intent. In calculating the total amount of purchases, you may include in your Letter purchases made up to 90 days before the date of the Letter. Purchases resulting from the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains do not apply toward fulfillment of the Letter. The 13-month period begins on the date of the first purchase, including those purchases made in the 90-day period before the date of the Letter. Please note that the purchase price of these prior purchases will not be adjusted.

You are not legally bound by the terms of your Letter of Intent to purchase the amount of your shares stated in the Letter. The Letter does, however, authorize the Fund to hold in escrow 5% of the total amount you intend to purchase. If you do not complete the total intended purchase of A Class shares at the end of the 13-month period, the Fund's transfer agent will redeem the necessary portion of the escrowed shares to make up the difference between the reduced rate sales charge (based on the amount you intended to purchase) and the sales charge that would normally apply (based on the actual amount you purchased).

Combined Purchase/Quantity Discount Privilege

When calculating the appropriate sales charge rate, a Fund will combine same-day purchases of A Class shares (that are subject to a sales charge) made by you, your spouse and your minor children (under age 21). This combination also applies to A Class shares you purchase with a Letter of Intent.

Contingent Deferred Sales Charges – A Class Shares

You will not pay a front-end sales charge if you purchase $1,000,000 or more of A Class shares of a Fund. However, A Class share purchases of $1,000,000 or more of a Fund, are subject to a 1.00% CDSC if redeemed within 18 months of purchase. The CDSC will be based on the lesser of (1) the NAV of the shares at the time of purchase or (2) the NAV of the shares next calculated after a Fund receives your redemption request. The sales charge does not apply to shares you purchase through reinvestment of dividends or distributions. So, you never pay a CDSC on any increase in your investment above the initial offering price.

The CDSC may be waived under the following circumstances:

- in the event of total disability (as evidenced by a determination by the federal Social Security Administration) of the shareholder (including a registered joint owner) occurring after the purchase of the A Class shares being redeemed;
- in the event of the death of the shareholder (including a registered joint owner); and
- redemptions of A Class shares where the Funds' distributor did not pay a sales commission when such shares were purchased.

Contingent Deferred Sales Charges – C Class Shares

You will not pay a front-end sales charge if you purchase C Class shares. However, you may pay a CDSC of 1.00% on any C Class Shares you sell within 12 months after your purchase. The CDSC will be based on the lesser of (1) the NAV of the shares at the time of purchase or (2) the NAV of the shares next calculated after a Fund receives your redemption request. The sales charge does not apply to shares you purchase through reinvestment of dividends or distributions. So, you never pay a CDSC on any increase in your investment above the initial offering price.

The CDSC may be waived under the following circumstances:

- in the event of total disability (as evidenced by a determination by the federal Social Security Administration) of the shareholder (including a registered joint owner) occurring after the purchase of the C Class shares being redeemed;
- in the event of the death of the shareholder (including a registered joint owner); and
- redemptions of C Class shares where the Funds' distributor did not pay a sales commission when such shares were purchased.

Sales Charge Waivers and Reductions Available Through Certain Financial Intermediaries

The availability of certain sales charge waivers and discounts may depend on whether you purchase your shares directly from a Fund or through a financial intermediary. Different intermediaries may impose different sales charges (including potential reductions in or waivers of sales charges). For the variations applicable to shares offered through certain intermediary platforms, please see Appendix A – Financial Intermediary Sales Charge Variations. All variations described in Appendix A are applied by, and the responsibility of, the identified financial intermediary. Sales charge variations may apply to purchases, sales, exchanges and reinvestments of Fund shares and a shareholder transacting in Fund shares through an intermediary identified on Appendix A should read the terms and conditions of Appendix A carefully. A variation that is specific to a particular financial intermediary is not applicable to shares held directly with a Fund or through another intermediary.

In all instances, it is the purchaser's responsibility to notify a Fund or the purchaser's financial intermediary at the time of purchase of any relationship or other facts qualifying the purchaser for sales charge waivers or discounts. For waivers and discounts not available through a particular intermediary, shareholders will have to purchase Fund shares directly from a Fund or through another intermediary to receive such waivers or discounts.

General Information about Sales Charges

Your securities dealer is paid a commission when you buy your shares and is paid a servicing fee as long as you hold your shares. Your securities dealer or servicing agent may receive different levels of compensation depending on which class of shares you buy. The Funds' distributor may pay dealers up to 5.75% on investments of less than $1,000,000 in A Class shares of the Funds. From time to time, some financial institutions may be reallocated up to the entire sales charge. Firms that receive a reallowance (i.e. a fee or compensation) of the entire sales charge may be considered underwriters for the purpose of federal securities law. The Funds' distributor may pay dealers up to 1.00% on investments in C Class shares.

The Funds' distributor may, from time to time in its sole discretion, institute one or more promotional incentive programs for dealers, which will be paid for by the Funds' distributor from any sales charge it receives or from any other source available to it. Under any such program, the Funds' distributor may provide cash or non-cash compensation as recognition for past sales or encouragement for future sales that may include merchandise, travel expenses, prizes, meals, lodgings, and gifts that do not exceed $100 per year, per individual.

Information regarding the Funds' sales charges may be obtained free of charge by calling toll-free 1-888-884-8099.

Because this Prospectus is available on the Funds' website free of charge, the Funds do not separately make information regarding the Funds' sales charges available on the website.

Frequent Trading Policies

Frequent purchases and redemptions of Fund shares by a shareholder may harm other Fund shareholders by interfering with the efficient management of the Funds' portfolio, increasing brokerage and administrative costs, and potentially diluting the value of the Funds' shares.

The Funds do not accommodate frequent purchases or redemptions of Fund shares that result in disruptive trading.

The Board has adopted policies and procedures in an effort to detect and prevent disruptive trading, including market timing in the Funds. Each Fund, through its service providers, monitors shareholder trading activity to ensure it complies with the Fund's policies. Each Fund prepares reports illustrating purchase and redemption activity to detect disruptive trading activity. When monitoring shareholder purchases and redemptions, the Funds do not apply a quantitative definition to frequent trading. Instead each Fund uses a subjective approach that permits it to reject any purchase orders that it believes may be indicative of market timing or disruptive trading. The right to reject a purchase order applies to any purchase order, including a purchase order placed by financial intermediaries. Each Fund may also modify any terms or conditions of purchases of Fund shares or withdraw all or any part of the offering made by this Prospectus. Each Fund's policies and procedures to prevent disruptive trading activity are applied uniformly to all shareholders. These actions, in the Board's opinion, should help reduce the risk of abusive trading in each Fund.

When financial intermediaries establish omnibus accounts in a Fund for their clients, the Fund reviews trading activity at the omnibus account level and looks for activity that may indicate potential frequent trading or disruptive trading. If a Fund detects potentially disruptive trading activity, the Fund will seek the assistance of the intermediary to investigate that trading activity and take appropriate action, including prohibiting additional purchases of Fund shares by the intermediary and/or its client. Each intermediary that offers the Funds' shares through an omnibus account has entered into an information sharing agreement with the Funds designed to assist the Funds in stopping future disruptive trading. Intermediaries may apply frequent trading policies that differ from those described in this Prospectus. If you invest in a Fund through an intermediary, please read that firm's program materials carefully to learn of any rules or fees that may apply.

Although each Fund has taken steps to discourage frequent purchases and redemptions of Fund shares, it cannot guarantee that such trading will not occur.

HOW TO REDEEM SHARES

Shares of each Fund may be redeemed on any day on which the Fund computes its NAV. Shares are redeemed at the NAV next determined after the Transfer Agent receives your redemption request in proper form as described below. Redemption requests may be made by mail or by telephone.

By Mail. You may redeem shares by mailing a written request to Lyrical U.S. Value Equity Fund or Lyrical International Value Equity Fund (as appropriate) P.O. Box 46707, Cincinnati, Ohio 45246-0707. Written requests must be in good order and state the shareholder's name, the account number and the shares or dollar amount to be redeemed and be signed exactly as the shares are registered with each Fund.

To be in good order, the following conditions must be satisfied:

- The request should be in writing, unless redeeming by telephone, indicating the number of shares or dollar amount to be redeemed;
- The request must identify your account number;
- The request should be signed by you and any other person listed on the account, exactly as the shares are registered; and

If you request that the redemption proceeds be sent to a person, bank or an address other than that of record or paid to someone other than the record owner(s), or if the address was changed within the last 15 days, or if the proceeds of a requested redemption exceed $50,000, the signature(s) on the request must be medallion signature guaranteed by an eligible signature guarantor.

Signature Guarantees. If the shares to be redeemed have a value of greater than $50,000, or if the payment of the proceeds of a redemption of any amount is to be sent to a person other than the shareholder of record or to an address other than that on record with that Fund, you must have all signatures on written redemption requests guaranteed. If the name(s) or the address on your account has changed within the previous 15 days of your redemption request, the request must be made in writing with your signature guaranteed, regardless of the value of the shares being redeemed. The Transfer Agent will accept signatures guaranteed by a domestic bank or trust company, broker, dealer, clearing agency, savings association or other financial institution which participates in the Securities Transfer Agents Medallion Program ("STAMP") sponsored by the Securities Transfer Association. Signature guarantees from financial institutions which do not participate in STAMP will not be accepted. A notary public cannot provide a signature guarantee. The Transfer Agent has adopted standards for accepting signature guarantees from the above institutions. The Funds and the Transfer Agent reserve the right to amend these standards at any time without notice.

Redemption requests by corporate and fiduciary shareholders must be accompanied by appropriate documentation establishing the authority of the person seeking to act on behalf of the account. Forms of resolutions and other documentation to assist in compliance with the Transfer Agent's procedures may be obtained by calling the Transfer Agent.

By Telephone. Unless you specifically decline the telephone redemption privilege on your account application, you may also redeem shares having a value of $50,000 or less by telephone by calling the Transfer Agent at 1-888-884-8099.

Telephone redemptions may be requested only if the proceeds are to be sent to the shareholder of record and mailed to the address on record with the Funds. Account designations may be changed by sending the Transfer Agent a written request with all signatures guaranteed as described above. Upon request, redemption proceeds of $100 or more may be transferred electronically from an account you maintain with a financial institution by an ACH transaction, and proceeds of $1,000 or more may be transferred by wire, in either case to the account stated on the account application. Shareholders may be charged a fee of $15 by the applicable Fund's custodian for outgoing wires.

The Transfer Agent requires personal identification before accepting any redemption request by telephone, and telephone redemption instructions may be recorded. If reasonable procedures are followed by the Transfer Agent, neither the Transfer Agent nor the Funds will be liable for losses due to unauthorized or fraudulent telephone instructions. "Reasonable procedures" include, but are not limited to, the Transfer Agent confirming that the account is eligible for telephone transactions, requesting some form of personal identification (e.g., social security number, date of birth, etc.) from you prior to acting on telephonic instructions, and getting a verbal confirmation from you on a recorded line at the time of the transaction. In the event of drastic economic or market changes, a shareholder may experience difficulty in redeeming shares by telephone. If such a case should occur, redemption by mail should be considered.

During periods of high market activity, you may encounter higher than usual wait times. Please allow sufficient time to ensure that you will be able to complete your telephone transaction prior to market close. Neither the Fund nor its transfer agent will be held liable if you are unable to place your trade due to high call volume.

The telephone redemption privilege is automatically available to all new accounts. If you do not want the telephone redemption privilege, you must indicate that is in the appropriate area on your account application or you must write to the Fund and instruct it to remove this privilege from your account. If you own an IRA, you will be asked whether or not the Fund should withhold federal income tax.

If you own an IRA or other retirement plan, you must indicate on your redemption request whether the Fund should withhold federal income tax. Unless you elect in your redemption request that you do not want to have federal income tax withheld, the redemption will be subject to withholding.

Through Your Broker or Financial Institution. You may also redeem your shares through a brokerage firm or financial institution that has been authorized to accept orders on behalf of the Funds at the NAV next determined after your order is received by such organization in proper form. These organizations are authorized to designate other intermediaries to receive redemption orders on each Fund's behalf. Each Fund calculates its NAV as of the close of regular trading on the NYSE (generally 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time). Your brokerage firm or financial institution may require a redemption request to be received at an earlier time during the day in order for your redemption to be effective as of the day the order is received, in proper form. Such an organization may charge you transaction fees on redemptions of Fund shares and may impose other charges or restrictions or account options that differ from those applicable to shareholders who redeem shares directly through the Transfer Agent. A redemption to a bank other than the bank of record requires a signature guarantee and any redemption to a bank other than the bank of record is transmitted by federal wire transfer.

Receiving Payment

The length of time each Fund typically expects to pay redemption proceeds is the same regardless of whether the payment is made by check, wire or ACH. Each Fund typically expects to pay redemption proceeds for shares redeemed within the following days after receipt by the Transfer Agent of a redemption request in proper form:

- For payment by check, the Fund typically expects to mail the check within one (1) to three (3) business days; and
- For payment by wire or ACH, the Fund typically expects to process the payment within one (1) to three (3) business days.

Payment of redemption proceeds may take longer than the time a Fund typically expects and may take up to 7 calendar days as permitted under the 1940 Act. Under unusual circumstances as permitted by the SEC, the Funds may suspend the right of redemption or delay payment of redemption proceeds for more than 7 calendar days. When shares are purchased by check or through ACH, the proceeds from the redemption of those shares will not be paid until the purchase check or ACH transfer has been converted to federal funds, which could take up to 15 calendar days.

Minimum Account Balance

Due to the high cost of maintaining shareholder accounts, a Fund may involuntarily redeem shares in an account, and pay the proceeds to the shareholder, if the shareholder's activity causes the account balance to fall below the Fund's initial investment minimum amount (the "Minimum Account Balance"). Such automatic redemptions may cause a taxable event for the shareholder. An automatic redemption does not apply, however, if the balance falls below the Fund's Minimum Account Balance solely because of a decline in the Fund's NAV. Before shares are redeemed to close an account, the shareholder is notified in writing and allowed 30 calendar days to purchase additional shares to meet the Minimum Account Balance requirement.

Systematic Withdrawal Plan

If the shares of each Fund in your account have a value of at least $5,000, you (or another person you have designated) may receive monthly or quarterly payments in a specified amount of not less than $100 each. There is currently no charge for this service, but the Transfer Agent reserves the right, upon 30 calendar days written notice, to make reasonable charges. Call the Transfer Agent toll-free at 1-888-884-8099 for additional information.

Other Redemption Information

Generally, all redemptions will be paid in cash. Each Fund typically expects to satisfy redemption requests by using holdings of cash or cash equivalents or selling portfolio assets.

On a less regular basis and if the Adviser believes it is in the best interest of a Fund and its shareholders not to sell portfolio assets, the Fund may satisfy redemption requests by using short-term borrowing from the Fund's custodian, if available. These methods normally will be used during both regular and stressed market conditions. In addition to paying redemption proceeds in cash, each Fund reserves the right to make payment for a redemption in securities rather than cash, which is known as a "redemption in kind." Redemptions in kind will be made only under extraordinary circumstances and if that Fund deems it advisable for the benefit of all shareholders, such as a very large redemption that could affect Fund operations (for example, more than 1% of the Fund's net assets). A redemption in kind will consist of securities equal in market value to the Fund's shares being redeemed, using the same valuation procedures that the Fund uses to compute its NAV. Redemption in kind proceeds will typically be made by delivering a pro-rata amount of the Fund's holdings to the redeeming shareholder within 7 calendar days after the Fund's receipt of the redemption order in proper form. If a Fund redeems your shares in kind, you will bear the market risks associated with maintaining or selling the securities that are transferred as redemption proceeds. In addition, when you sell these securities, you may pay taxes and brokerage charges associated with selling the securities.

Automatic Conversion of C Class Shares to A Class Shares

C Class shares automatically convert to A Class shares in the same Fund after 8 years, provided that the Fund or the financial intermediary through which the shareholder purchased the C Class shares has records verifying that the C Class shares have been held for at least 8 years. Due to operational limitations at your financial intermediary, your ability to have your C Class shares automatically converted to A Class shares may be limited. (For example, automatic conversion of C Class shares to A Class shares will not apply to shares held through group retirement plan recordkeeping platforms of certain broker-dealer intermediaries who hold such shares in an omnibus account and do not track participant level share lot aging. Such C Class shares would not satisfy the conditions for the automatic conversion.) Please consult your financial representative for more information. The automatic conversion of C Class shares to A Class shares would occur on the basis of the relative NAVs of the two classes without the imposition of any sales charges or other charges. C Class shares issued upon reinvestment of income and capital gain dividends and other distributions will be converted to A Class shares on a pro rata basis with the C Class shares. Shareholders generally will not recognize a gain or loss for federal income tax purposes upon the conversion of C Class shares to A Class shares in the same Fund.

DIVIDENDS, DISTRIBUTIONS AND TAXES

The following information is meant as a general summary for U.S. taxpayers. Additional tax information appears in the SAI. Shareholders should rely on their own advisors for advice about the particular federal, state, and local tax consequences of investing in the Funds.

Income dividends and net capital gain distributions, if any, are normally declared and paid annually by each Fund in December. Your distributions of dividends and capital gains will be automatically reinvested in additional shares of the Funds unless you elect to receive them in cash. Although each Fund will not be taxed on amounts it distributes, shareholders will generally be taxed on distributions paid by each Fund, regardless of whether distributions are paid in cash or reinvested in additional shares of a Fund.

Each Fund intends to distribute substantially all of its net investment income and net realized capital gains, if any. The dividends and distributions you receive, whether in cash or reinvested in additional shares of a Fund, may be subject to federal, state, and local taxation, depending upon your tax situation. Distributions attributable to ordinary income and short-term capital gains are generally taxed as ordinary income, although certain income dividends may be taxed to non-corporate shareholders at long-term capital gains rates. In the case of corporations that hold shares of a Fund, certain income from such Fund may qualify for a 50% dividends-received deduction. Distributions of long-term capital gains are generally taxed as long-term capital gains, regardless of how long you have held your Fund shares.

Each Fund has qualified and plans to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company for federal income tax purposes, and as such, will not be subject to federal income tax on its taxable income and gains that it distributes to its shareholders. If it meets certain minimum distribution requirements, a regulated investment company will not be subject to federal income tax on its taxable income and gains from investments that it timely distributes to its shareholders. Each Fund intends to distribute its income and gains in such a way that it will not be subject to a federal excise tax on certain undistributed amounts.

However, a Fund's failure to qualify as a regulated investment company or to meet minimum distribution requirements would result (if certain relief provisions were not available) in fund-level taxation and, consequently, a reduction in income available for distribution to shareholders. In order to qualify for taxation as a regulated investment company, a Fund must derive at least 90% of its gross income each taxable year from qualifying income and diversify its assets as described in more detail in the SAI. Each Fund will monitor its investments with the objective of maintaining its qualification as a regulated investment company under the Code.

When you redeem a Fund's shares, you will generally realize a capital gain or loss if you hold the shares as capital assets. Except for investors who hold their respective Fund shares through tax-deferred arrangements, such as 401(k) plans or IRAs, and tax-exempt investors that do not borrow to purchase a Fund's shares, any gain realized on a redemption of a Fund's shares will be subject to federal income tax. However, certain exchanges of shares may be exempt from tax, including exchanges of a Fund's shares for shares of a different class of such Fund. All or a portion of any loss realized upon a taxable disposition of a Fund's shares will be disallowed if you purchase other substantially identical shares within 30 days before or 30 days after the disposition. In such a case, the basis of the newly purchased shares will be adjusted to reflect the disallowed loss.

U.S. individuals with income exceeding $200,000 ($250,000 if married and filing jointly) are subject to a 3.8% tax on their “net investment income,” including interest, dividends, and capital gains (including capital gains realized on the sale or exchange of shares of a Fund).

You will be notified by February 15th of each year about the federal tax status of distributions made by each Fund during the prior year. Depending on your residence for tax purposes, distributions also may be subject to state and local taxes.

Federal law requires each Fund to withhold taxes on distributions paid to shareholders who fail to provide a social security number or taxpayer identification number or fail to certify that such number is correct, or who have been notified by the IRS that they are subject to backup withholding. Backup withholding is not an additional tax; rather, it is a way in which the IRS ensures it will collect taxes otherwise due. Any amounts withheld may be credited against a shareholder’s U.S. federal income tax liability.

Mutual fund companies are required to report cost basis information to the IRS on Form 1099-B for sales of mutual fund shares (“Covered Shares”). Under these regulations, mutual funds must select a default cost basis calculation method and apply that method to the sale of Covered Shares unless an alternate IRS approved method is specifically elected in writing by the shareholder. Average Cost, which is the mutual fund industry standard, has been selected as each Fund’s default cost basis calculation method. If a shareholder determines that an IRS approved cost basis calculation method other than a Fund’s default method of Average Cost is more appropriate, the shareholder must contact such Fund at the time of or in advance of the sale of Covered Shares that are to be subject to that alternate election. IRS regulations do not permit the change of a cost basis election on previously executed trades.

Shareholders that are not “U.S. persons” within the meaning of the Code should consult their tax advisers and, if holding shares through intermediaries, their intermediaries, concerning the application of U.S. tax rules and tax rules of other applicable jurisdictions to their investment in a Fund.

Because everyone’s tax situation is not the same, you should consult your tax professional about federal, state and local tax consequences of an investment in the Funds.

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The A Class shares and C Class shares recently commenced operations, and therefore there is no comparable information to report. As a result, the financial highlights information presented is of the Fund's Investor Class shares and Institutional Class shares. The financial highlights tables are intended to help you understand each Fund's financial performance for the past 5 years for the U.S. Fund and the year/period of operations for the International Fund. Certain information reflects financial results for a single Fund share. The total return in the tables represent the rate that an investor would have earned on an investment in the applicable Fund (assuming reinvestment of all dividends and distributions). This information has been audited by the Funds' independent registered public accounting firm, BBD, LLP, whose report, along with the Funds' financial statements, is included in the Annual Report to shareholders, which may be obtained at no charge by calling the Funds at 1-888-884-8099 or by visiting the Funds' website at www.lyricalvaluefunds.com. The Funds' unaudited financial statements for the semi-annual period ended May 31, 2022 are included in the Funds' semi-annual report, which is also available upon request. The unaudited interim financial statements reflect all adjustments necessary, in the opinion of management, to be a fair statement of the results for the interim period presented. Furthermore, all such adjustments to the unaudited interim financial statements are of a normal recurring nature.

APPENDIX A – FINANCIAL INTERMEDIARIES SALES CHARGE VARIATIONS

Financial Intermediary Sales Charge Variations

As noted under “Classes of Shares,” a financial intermediary may offer shares of the Lyrical U.S. Value Equity Fund and Lyrical International Value Equity Fund (the “Funds”) subject to variations in or elimination of the Funds sales charges (“variations”), provided such variations are described in this Prospectus. Set forth below are the variations in sales charges applicable to shares purchased through the noted financial intermediary. All variations described below are applied by, and the responsibility of, the identified financial intermediary. Variations may apply to purchases, sales, exchanges and reinvestments of the Funds’ shares and a shareholder transacting in shares of each Fund through the intermediary identified below should read the terms and conditions of the variations carefully. A variation that is specific to a particular financial intermediary is not applicable to shares held directly with the Funds or through another intermediary.

Fund Purchases through Merrill Lynch

Shareholders purchasing shares of each Fund through a Merrill Lynch platform or account are eligible only for the following sales charge waivers (front-end sales charge waivers and contingent deferred, or back-end, sales charge waivers) and discounts, which may differ from those disclosed elsewhere in this Prospectus or in the SAI.

Front-end Sales Load Waivers on Class A Shares available at Merrill Lynch

The front-end sales charges applicable to purchases of Class A shares will be waived for:

- Shares purchased by employer-sponsored retirement, deferred compensation and employee benefit plans (including health savings accounts) and trusts used to fund those plans, provided that the shares are not held in a commission-based brokerage account and shares are held for the benefit of the plan
- Shares purchased by a 529 Plan (does not include 529 Plan units or 529-specific share classes or equivalents)
- Shares purchased through a Merrill Lynch affiliated investment advisory program
- Shares exchanged due to the holdings moving from a Merrill Lynch affiliated investment advisory program to a Merrill Lynch brokerage (non-advisory) account pursuant to Merrill Lynch’s policies relating to sales load discounts and waivers
- Shares purchased by third party investment advisors on behalf of their advisory clients through Merrill Lynch’s platform
- Shares of funds purchased through the Merrill Edge Self-Directed platform (if applicable)
- Shares purchased through reinvestment of capital gains distributions and dividend reinvestment when purchasing shares of the same fund (but not any other fund within the fund family)
- Shares exchanged from Class C Shares of the same fund pursuant to Merrill Lynch’s policies relating to sales load discounts and waivers

- Shares purchased by employees and registered representatives of Merrill Lynch or its affiliates and their family members
- Shares purchased by Trustees of the Trust, and employees of the Fund's investment advisor or any of its affiliates, as described in this prospectus
- Eligible Shares purchased from the proceeds of redemptions within the same fund family, provided (1) the repurchase occurs within 90 days following the redemption, (2) the redemption and purchase occur in the same account, and (3) redeemed shares were subject to a front-end or deferred sales load (known as Rights of Reinstatement). Automated transactions (i.e. systematic purchases and withdrawals) and purchases made after shares are automatically sold to pay Merrill Lynch's account maintenance fees are not eligible for reinstatement.

CDSC Waivers on Class A Shares and Class C Shares available at Merrill Lynch (if applicable)

The CDSC payable on redemptions of Class A Shares and Class C Shares (if applicable) will be waived in connection with:

- Shares sold on the death or disability of the shareholder
- Shares sold as part of a systematic withdrawal plan as described in the Fund's prospectus
- Shares sold to return excess contributions from an IRA Account
- Shares sold as part of a required minimum distribution for IRA and retirement accounts pursuant to the Internal Revenue Code
- Shares sold to pay Merrill Lynch fees but only if the transaction is initiated by Merrill Lynch
- The sale of Fund shares acquired pursuant to the Rights of Reinstatement privilege as described above
- Shares held in retirement brokerage accounts, that are exchanged for a lower cost share class due to transfer to a fee based account or platform (applicable to Class A and Class C Shares only)
- Shares received through an exchange due to the holdings moving from a Merrill Lynch affiliated investment advisory program to a Merrill Lynch brokerage (non-advisory) account pursuant to Merrill Lynch's policies relating to sales load discounts and waivers.

Front-end load Discounts Available at Merrill Lynch: Discounts, Rights of Accumulation & Letters of Intent

Front-end sales charges may be subject to discounts, rights of accumulation and letters of intent as follows:

- The front-end sales charge applicable to Class A shares may be subject to breakpoint discounts for purchases in excess of $50,000 for Class A Shares as described under "Sales Charges"
- Rights of Accumulation (ROA) which entitle shareholders to breakpoint discounts as described in the Fund's prospectus will be automatically calculated based on the aggregated holding of fund family assets held by accounts (including 529 program holdings, where applicable) within the purchaser's household at Merrill

Lynch. Eligible fund family assets not held at Merrill Lynch may be included in the ROA calculation only if the shareholder notifies his or her financial advisor about such assets

- Letters of Intent (LOI) which allow for breakpoint discounts based on anticipated purchases within a fund family, through Merrill Lynch, over a 13-month period of time (if applicable)

Fund Purchases through Morgan Stanley Wealth Management

Effective December 19, 2018, shareholders purchasing Fund shares through a Morgan Stanley Wealth Management transactional brokerage account will be eligible only for the following front-end sales charge waivers with respect to Class A shares, which may differ from and may be more limited than those disclosed elsewhere in this Prospectus or SAL. - Shares purchased through reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions when purchasing shares of the same fund
- Shares purchased through a Morgan Stanley self-directed brokerage account
- Class C (i.e., level-load) shares that are no longer subject to a contingent deferred sales charge and are converted to Class A shares of the same fund pursuant to Morgan Stanley Wealth Management's share class conversion program
- Shares purchased from the proceeds of redemptions within the same fund family, provided (i) the repurchase occurs within 90 days following the redemption, (ii) the redemption and purchase occur in the same account, and (iii) redeemed shares were subject to a front-end or deferred sales charge.

Fund Purchases through Raymond James & Associates, Inc., Raymond James Financial Services, Inc. & each entity's affiliates ("Raymond James")

Effective March 1, 2019, shareholders purchasing shares of each Fund through a Raymond James platform or account, or through an introducing broker-dealer or independent registered investment adviser for which Raymond James provides trade execution, clearance, and/or custody services, are eligible only for the following sales charge waivers (front-end sales charge waivers and contingent deferred, or back-end, sales charge waivers) and discounts, which may differ from those disclosed elsewhere in this prospectus or in the SAL.

Front-end sales load waivers on Class A shares available at Raymond James

- Shares purchased in an investment advisory program.

- Shares purchased within the same fund family through a systematic reinvestment of capital gains distributions and dividend reinvestment when purchasing shares of the same fund (but not any other fund within the fund family).
- Employees and registered representatives of Raymond James or its affiliates and their family members as designated by Raymond James.
- Shares purchased from the proceeds of redemptions within the same fund family, provided (1) the repurchase occurs within 90 days following the redemption, (2) the redemption and purchase occur in the same account, and (3) redeemed shares were subject to a front-end or deferred sales load (known as Rights of Reinstatement).
- A shareholder in the Fund's Class C shares will have their shares converted at net asset value to Class A shares (or the appropriate share class) of the Fund if the shares are no longer subject to a CDSC and the conversion is in line with the policies and procedures of Raymond James.

CDSC Waivers on Classes A and C shares available at Raymond James

- Death or disability of the shareholder.
- Shares sold as part of a systematic withdrawal plan as described in the fund's prospectus.
- Return of excess contributions from an IRA Account.
- Shares sold as part of a required minimum distribution for IRA and retirement accounts due to the shareholder reaching age 70½ as described in the fund's prospectus.
- Shares sold to pay Raymond James fees but only if the transaction is initiated by Raymond James.
- Shares acquired through a right of reinstatement.

Front-end load discounts available at Raymond James: breakpoints, rights of accumulation, and/or letters of intent

- Breakpoints as described in this prospectus.
- Rights of accumulation which entitle shareholders to breakpoint discounts will be automatically calculated based on the aggregated holding of fund family assets held by accounts within the purchaser's household at Raymond James. Eligible fund family assets not held at Raymond James may be included in the calculation of rights of accumulation calculation only if the shareholder notifies his or her financial advisor about such assets.

Letters of intent which allow for breakpoint discounts based on anticipated purchases within a fund family, over a 13-month time period. Eligible fund family assets not held at Raymond James may be included in the calculation of letters of intent only if the shareholder notifies his or her financial advisor about such assets.
